

RUN CLOSE TO FORM

Four First Choice Winners at Brighton Beach.

FALCADA BY PART OF LENGTH.

Races Away with Handicap for Three-year-olds at a Mile—Third Race Only a Gallop for Marathon. Notter Drives Harrigan Under the Wire First in the Fifth Event.

New York, July 9.—The horses ran very close to public form at Brighton Beach today, as four first and two second choices were successful.

A feature was a handicap for three-year-olds at a mile. Question Mark was first choice and was ridden by Lee, who took him to the front at the beginning. Great Pirate was the runner up to the far turn, where Falcada passed him and went after Question Mark. The latter tired in the middle of the stretch and Falcada got up to win by three parts of a length. Ethernal made all the running in a handicap for two-year-olds, while Jimmy Lane, who was never extended, won the steeplechase at about two miles.

The third race was only a gallop for Marathon, a prohibitive favorite. Harrigan won the fifth by vigorous riding by Notter, while Fritz secured the last.

TIES WITH WINANS.

Ranken Breaks 46 Out of a Possible 50 at Olympic Games.

Blisley, England, July 9.—The opening day at the Olympic games rifle shoot was one of close contests.

Both the single shot "running deer" competition and the double shot competition resulted in ties. The scores made were high and competition was keen. Walter Winans, representing America, who early this week broke the world's record in his trials here, tied for first place in the double shot with Ranken, England. Both made scores of 46 out of a possible 50.

In the single shot competition, however, Winans was distanced by several of his competitors. Shalann, Sweden, won the gold medal, with a score of 25, and Ranken and Rogers tied for second place, with 24. Winans' score was 21. The highest possible score is 40. The ties will be shot off to-morrow.

"HELLO" GIRLS THERE

Hundred of 'Em on Electrical Workers' Excursion.

ATHLETIC SPORTS WERE GREAT

Nail-driving Contest and the Foot Race for Women, Which Had to Be Run Over Again, Best Features of All-Everybody Got a Prize, and Everybody Was Happy.

Members of Local Union, No. 148, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, their families and friends, numbering several hundred persons, enjoyed a pleasant outing yesterday at River View on the occasion of the sixth annual excursion of the organization.

About 100 complimentary tickets were issued to "hello" girls in the employ of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, and most of these girls were accompanied to the river resort by the young members of the union.

The first boat left Washington at 9 o'clock in the morning, returning in time to carry down the river another party of pleasure seekers at 2:30 o'clock. The last boat left Washington at 6:45 o'clock, carrying the largest number of persons of any boat leaving the city for River View during the day. A majority of the passengers were electricians, who had been unable to leave work, and took advantage of the late boat to join their fellow-members.

Everybody Won Something. Under the direction of T. K. Lusby, president of the union, the athletic events were held, resulting in nearly all of the contestants winning some kind of a prize. The events were open to the public, and, in addition to many persons not members of the union, the members of the crew of the Queen Anne and attendants at River View joined in the merrymaking.

One of the most interesting events, which proved to be difficult to the contestants, was the high rope-throwing contest. Men only were eligible to take part. J. Hallcock, whose rope, thrown over the wire, fell nearest the ground, was declared the winner, with H. J. Wright second, and B. H. Brandenburg third.

Woman with the Hammer. After the rope-throwing contest, the crowd went to the athletic field where it was announced that "the ladies would have a chance." The announcer said he meant by a "chance," an opportunity to injure fingers, as the next event was a nail-driving contest for women. About 100 nails were partly driven into a tough oak board and the woman who drove in the nails allotted to her in the shortest length of time was declared winner.

Men, husbands, fathers, sweethearts, and so gathered about and offered unheeded suggestions concerning "the right way to drive a nail." After a few excited minutes, in which more than one participant retired with an injured hand from the following women were announced: Miss E. Abigail, first; Mrs. E. M. Grimsley, second, and Miss Mary Smoot, third.

The nail-driving contest was followed by a 100-yard dash for women only. A race was run, but a number of protests were entered, and it was decided to have another race. The second race was won by Mrs. E. M. Grimsley, first; Mrs. H. B. Cates, second, and Mrs. O. L. Hollembeck, third.

The committee in charge of the excursion was composed of T. K. Lusby, chairman; O. L. Hollembeck, and E. J. Plarr.

NELSON AND GANS SIGN.

Will Fight for Third Time in Nevada Labor Day.

San Francisco, July 9.—After talking for several hours last night a return match was arranged by Tex Rickard, of Rawhide, Nev., between Joe Gans and Battling Nelson for September 7, before the Ely (Nev.) Athletic Club. The fight is to be a finish for a $30,000 purse, of which $20,000 will go to Nelson and $10,000 to Gans. Both men are to weigh 125 pounds stripped at the ringside, and the other conditions that prevailed in their last fight will hold.

Rickard is to post $10,000 in the National Bank of Ely, in ten days, and the remainder of the purse thirty days before the fight. Nelson and Gans each must put up $1,000 within ten days and $5,000 each thirty days before the fight. Ben Selig signed for Gans and Willis Britt for Nelson.

Selig's demand that Gans should receive $10,000 for his end of the purse resulted in protracted discussion. The hitch over the money question almost prevented the match being made, but Willis Britt, acting for Nelson, finally concluded to concede the point in order to prevent the big purse getting away from the Dane.

The Dane, according to his own statement, is more than anxious to fight again, and it does not make a great deal of difference whom he meets as long as the money end of the game is big enough to suit him. Nelson is not fond of the state, and would rather work in the ring than in the glare of the footlights.

Harvard Dismisses Crack Coach.

Boston, July 9.—James G. Lathrop, for twenty years coach of the Harvard track, has been dismissed as the Crimson's coach by the Harvard athletic committee. No reason is assigned for the change. A notice of his dismissal was sent by a prominent member of the Harvard committee to Coach Lathrop at his summer home, at Windham, Conn.

BANKS ANSWER CALL

Return Cash to Treasury Before Date Set.

SIGN OF EASY MONEY MARKET

Six and One-half Millions of the Forty-five Million Dollars Called for July 15 Already Received. Treasury Cash Working Millions. Now About Sixty-seven Millions.

In the week which has elapsed since Secretary Cortelyou announced that withdrawals would be made of government funds on deposit in national banks, there has been returned to the Federal Treasury the sum of $6,427,633.

The Secretary's call on the depository banks named July 15 as the latest date on which the funds should be returned to the Treasury, and it is expected that the greater part of the $45,000,000 affected by the official call will be withheld until about that date. The plethoric condition of the money market is indicated, however, by the action of several large banks in anticipating the date upon which the funds were to be repaid to the Treasury.

Before Secretary Cortelyou's call was issued several banks had voluntarily returned all or a part of their deposits of public money, some bankers being unwilling to pay the interest charge of 1 per cent, which was imposed by the new currency law. It is presumed by the Treasury authorities that the banks would be glad to pay this charge in the event of a tight money market requiring it, but the Aldrich-Vreeland act is having precisely the effect which was expected of it, in that it is producing contraction of the currency in the present period of market floods.

Money Now in Banks. On July 2, the date of the call on the banks, there was on deposit in national banks to the credit of the Treasurer of the United States the sum of $151,906,960. Within two or three days after the issuance of the call the banks began to return their deposits, either in part or in full, to the Federal Treasury. Yesterday's Treasury statement gives the amount now on deposit in banks to the credit of the Treasurer of the United States $145,590,227. This does not include the amount held in national banks to the credit of government disbursing officers, subject to check, for current payments by those officers, for that amount is maintained at a point nearly stationary. The amount so credited was yesterday $12,004,203.

The $145,590,227 does not include either the $5,000,000 kept in the treasury of the Philippine Islands, both to the credit of the United States Treasurer and to the credit of disbursing officers.

Cash Balance in Treasury. There was in the Federal Treasury at the close of business yesterday an available cash balance of $22,282,779, of which $165,215,240 is really on deposit in national banks or in the Philippine treasury. This cash balance is the largest for months. In fact, the working balance at present amounts to nearly $57,000,000, whereas it had been diminished during the period of stringency last December to less than $10,000,000.

Secretary Cortelyou does not look for any severe money stringency during the coming fall, even during the period of moving crops. He and the other leading officers of the Treasury believe that there will be no occasion for the issue of the banks to resort to the issue of emergency notes provided by the Aldrich-Vreeland law.

CHINAMEN HELD AS SPIES

League Island Navy Yard Officials Confiscate Books.

Men Believed to Be Acting for Japan Escorted to New York City.

Philadelphia, July 9.—Despite the efforts of navy officials to prevent news of the affair from leaking out, it became known today that late Wednesday afternoon two Chinamen, supposed to be acting either in the interest of their own government or of Japan, were arrested just as they were about to leave the navy yard. One of the Chinamen is said to have carried a package containing books and papers relating to naval affairs and military plans, the exact nature of which will not be announced until the package has been forwarded to Washington.

According to the story at the navy yard, the two Chinamen were taken before the commandant and captain of two of the battle ships and subjected to cross-examination.

At the end of the examination, the two men were released, but warned to leave the country. They are said to have left for New York last night in company with two Secret Service men.

Prior to their departure from this city, the two Chinamen called upon Thomas W. Barlow, British consul in Philadelphia, and lodged a complaint against this city, and lodged a complaint against the action of the navy yard authorities. They claimed that the books they were carrying were simply copies of United States infantry drill regulations, and that they are in the country to study United States military affairs, but not acting for their government.

NO RIOT AMONG SOLDIERS.

Col. Coffin Pronounces Published Story to Be Absurd.

"There was no riot at River View Tuesday night, caused by soldiers stationed at Fort Washington, and so far as I can learn there was no riot there of any kind."

So said Col. W. H. Coffin, commanding officer at Fort Washington, yesterday, in reference to a published account of a disturbance at the river resort, in which it was stated that Edward N. Macon, commander of Sub T, has sustained a broken arm and twenty-five privates placed under arrest. Col. Coffin said Capt. Macon had broken his arm early Tuesday morning, and denied the injury was caused in a fight with unduly privates. Col. Coffin said there had been a fight among three of our drunken soldiers at River View Tuesday night, but the affair had been highly colored and exaggerated. The men, who were so drunk they did not know what they were doing, fought only among themselves and were placed under arrest without resisting, according to the commanding officer.

Col. Coffin declared the story of the riot was not only absurd, but a big surprise to officers and men, who were at the resort and did not witness a fight of any kind.
